Contact 911 if you are having an emergency or if you are ready to report.

For more information on reporting, visit: https://laverne.edu/title-ix/

Campus safety serves 24/7 as the first responders on campus in emergencies both big and small. If you wish to report an incident to campus safety you will call them directly and they will respond promptly.

Title IX Coordinator can provide you information about your rights and options under University's policy. Meeting with the Title IX office does not obligate you to go through the Title IX grievance process.

For more information on reporting, Project Sister or House of Ruth can explain your options and offer support, including accompaniments to law enforcement processes and evidence collection exams (SART exams).

University of LaVerne

It is important to know that faculty, staff & coaches are mandated reporters. This means they are legally obligated to report information shared about these topics to Title IX
